- (g) Beating the victim on his testicles: They are put into a marrow sack and held to a special board, them beaten rythmically with a pliable metal whip.
- 3. "The head of the 'Securitatea', a Russian by the mame of Sergiu Nikolov-Nikolski, personally takes part in the torturing of those political prisoners who had once been important people.
- 4. "At the S S I prison in Busharest, a well-known petty police officer, Marculescu, personally takes charge of the torturing of the prisoners. He is about 35 years old and can be recognized by the white lock in his otherwise chestnut colored hair. When both the S S I and the 'Securitatea' are through with interrogating the political prisoners, they have them transferred to Jilava. There is also a special section there for women political prisoners.
- 5. "Upon first entering the Jilava prison buildings, the prisoners are stripped naked, and all parts of their body, especially those places where they could possibly hide something, are thoroughly searched. This searching is done by militiamen recruited from among the gypsies of Jilava. Among them is the sadistic commander, Maromet, who always takes part in the searching of the prisoners.
- 6. "At the present time, there are 2,500 prisoners at Jilava. Among them are the following fairly well-known people:

Mikal Maneilescu, one-time Minister of Foreign Affairs.

Mikal Romniceanu, a former Minister.

Tow Camil, former director of the 'Resitza' metal establishments.

General Coroama.

Crisoghelos, engineer and former director of the telephone company.

Bebe Fundrscas, former merchant.

Titel Petrescu, head of the no-longer existing Social Democratic Party.

Prof Motas, a socialist—there are also a number of other socialists interned at Jilava.

Commander Calix Betez, a former naval attache.

- 7. "In the prison section for women there were three women awaiting transfer to the Mislea prison: Mrs Pia Bratianu, wife of the former Prime Minister, Ionel Bratianu, Mrs Simona Catargi, and Mrs Arlette Coposu.
- 8. "The woman's section at Jilava is guarded by armed women guards who carry Soviet-made pistols of the 'Balalaica' type.
- 9. The Jilava prison authorities are extremely severe and brutal. Last Christmas the political prisoners, wanting to celebrate, began to sing carols but their joy was not to last for long. The Militia Commander Maromet punished them by making them go out naked in the corridors. Then he and two other militiamen, Iamandi and Szabo, whipped them until their blood ran.
- 10. "Jilava is a prison center where people who are arrested are tried and from there sent to various other prisons to fulfill their sentences. Students are usually sent to the prison of Pitesti, workers to that of Gherla in Transylvania, so-called 'war criminals' and political prisoners who have committed 'serious' crimes are sent to the prison of Aiud. Women prisoners, no matter on what basis they have been convicted, are transferred to the prison of Mislea, in Muntenia.

11. Some of the prisoners sent up to the Aiud prison (other than those mentioned in [paragraph 5]) are:

Stefan Bentoiu, former Minister.

Cheorghe Coposu, a former leader of the National Peasant Party.

Atta Constatutinescu, a former Minister.

Ilie Lazar, former Deputy of the National Peasants.

Dr Ilie Radulescu, a journalist.

Remus Georgascu, former member of the National Peasant Party.

Nichifor Robu, a forner deputy.

12. "Among those prisoners who had been taken to Aiud and then drafted into the forced labor brigades working on the Danuke-Black Sea Ganal are Major Dinu Vasilin, Frasin Munteanu-Rannic and others. Last November, a number of civilians and military prisoners were transferred from Jilava to Aiud where they were made to work in the nearby lead mines. Among them were the university professor. Nicolae Taroviceanu and Commander Copaciu.

- 13. What Aiud, all the prisoners wear a striped uniform. They are intermed in the various prison buildings according to the way their 'crimes' are classified. In the old prison known as 'Sarca' there are 300 military and political prisoners of a certain category kept in solitary confinement. In sections I and 2 of the prison, composed of three floors, the prisoners live together, 20 of them in every cell. In the basement there are 400 cells where special punishments are administered. Four hundred militiamen keep order within the walls of the Aiud prison buildings, while a very strong corps from the regular army guards the buildings from the outside. There are in addition, machinegun posts all around. Regular military patrols keep a strong watch over all the streets around the prison buildings as well as all the roads leading to and from the town of Aiud.
- 14. *At the beginning of last month, nearly all of the 300 common criminals kept at Aiud were transferred to the prison of Margineri so that they could be put to work at the local munitious factory.
- 15. *At the beginning of lest February, the prisons at Aiud were equipped with anti-aircraft shelters and other facilities. Twice or three times a month now, the prisoners have to take part in air-raid exercises.
- 16. "Prisoners are absolutely forbidden to receive visitors or to correspond with members of their families. Only once, last November, were they allowed to write a few lines home and ask for overcoats. They have only a ten-minute walk when that is allowed them. They are made to walk in their prison yard in silence, their heads down, their hands clasped behind them, forming a circle with each man five meters away from the other."
